
100,000 Children In Great Eucharist Pageant

DUBLIN GIVEN OVER TO FETE FOR YOUTHFUL

Cardinal Lauri Moves Amid Battalions of Youngsters Before Altar

By EDWARD STANLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer
DUBLIN, June 25.—A cascade of starch and bright eyes—white dresses and white ribbons and white candles—glistened into the majestic, colorful pageant of the Eucharist Communion today.

It was the Children's Day. From all over Ireland—men and women from far lands away—they came, in the hundreds, in the thousands, before the white high altar in Phoenix Park.

By 10 a.m.—an hour before the solemn pontifical mass began—Dublin seemed a city of children and the avenue leading to the park was almost a solid stream of bobbing heads and of motor cars filled with children.

IN THE PARK
In the park, Cardinal Lauri, the Pope's representative at the Communion, celebrated the Pontifical mass; and before the children began to enter the solemn "Mass of the Eucharist," led by a choir of 500 children.

After the mass the Cardinal moved among the miniature battalions which were drifting in the park. A blast of trumpets dismissed them, and they returned to the altar.

After this all was chatting, but semi-orderly turmoil as the young communists left the altar which they had been at since the winter and spring religious services.

ENDING TOMORROW
Tomorrow the Congress will end with a mass of 100,000 children. A million persons are expected to attend. After the mass the Congress will march in procession in the streets. It will be given on O'Connell bridge in the heart of Dublin.

Last night the 100,000 women from Ireland and the other provinces of the empire who assembled before the Eucharist Congress altar heard themselves praised for their religious services.

Winnipeg Invites Mayors To Probe Jobless Problem

WINNIPEG, June 25.—To discuss methods of co-ordinating unemployment relief between the province and to urge federal and provincial governments to bear a large share of the cost of unemployment relief was the purpose of the Winnipeg conference of mayors of the principal cities of Canada today.

The convention will focus the eyes of the nation on the unemployment problem. The conference is being held at the Winnipeg Convention Centre, which is carrying the heaviest share of the relief burden and they have just reached the end of their financial year. Something must be done to meet the growing unemployment situation next fall and winter, it is the time to make our plans.

BOARD HAS MEET IN BORDER TOWN

Many Resolutions Carried in Meeting

Examiner in Edmonton Bulletin
LLOYDMINSTER, Alta., June 25.—The Rev. Dr. J. Patton, of Grace United Church, Lloydminster, was the special speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Lloydminster Board of Trade, held at the Royal Cafe, Tuesday evening.

At the meeting Mr. Crowley reported that the winter road committee had met, and they considered it better to elect a committee from the business men who are putting the winter road across. A number of the business men signified their agreement.

G. M. Cook, president, stated they had met over the meridian with the view of the British Columbia and a motion was put to the effect that the board co-operate with the British Columbia municipality towards the relief of the unemployed.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Patton, and it was carried. Mr. Patton further offered in the endeavor to have the C. P. R. train from the west change its time of arrival in Lloydminster to four o'clock p.m. instead of 6:30 a.m. at present.

A motion was carried that a resolution be sent to the various western provinces endorsing their plan.

DROP CADET TRAINING IN CITY SCHOOLS

Trustee Bowcott's Motion Just Squeezes Through at Board Meeting

The discussion of Trustee S. Bowcott's proposal to eliminate cadet training from the Edmonton schools brought on long and somewhat heated argument at the school board meeting Friday evening before the motion finally passed.

The motion was worded as follows: "That this board on record as favoring the elimination of the present cadet-military or semi-military training system, at present carried on in the Edmonton public schools and high schools, and that we substitute in its place a more intensive training in physical culture and first aid."

Strong opinions were expressed on both sides of the question and the motion just got through by the skin of its teeth. It was supported by the Labor members of the board and the deciding vote was given in its favor by Trustee A. E. Ottewill.

BRUTALIZES BOYS
"They say the system helps discipline in the schools," said Trustee Bowcott. "If it is necessary for the reason why not have a drill sergeant-major in the schools instead of a principal? My idea is that this military training is like gangster training. It tends to brutalize the boys like it and I don't think we should have it."

Trustee S. A. Barnes made a speech on modern thought and pacifism. "The movement of schools to drop this training is a good one," he said. "It is a movement to drop a physical training and a group in such as was suggested by the assistant superintendent, would give the boys a chance to learn to stand properly and to walk properly. It is not a military training, it is a physical training and it is a group of boys who are experts take part in the athletic of the school."

APPEALS TO BOYS
There is something in this system which appeals to every boy who is in the military training. It is a glorified physical training. It teaches the boys to become leaders and it teaches them to become followers. It is a system which appeals to every boy who is in the military training. It is a glorified physical training. It teaches the boys to become leaders and it teaches them to become followers.

Mr. W. D. Ferris said it was not voluntary. It was a compulsory system. It was a system which appeals to every boy who is in the military training. It is a glorified physical training. It teaches the boys to become leaders and it teaches them to become followers.

5 DAY 40 HOUR WEEK ADOPTED BY UTILITIES
Step Taken by Utility Departments as Measure of Economy

As an economy measure, a five-day or forty-hour week is being adopted by city utility departments, it was learned from Commissioner Mitchell.

While in the city engineering and waterworks departments this move has already been put into effect, it will not be adopted by the street railway, power, and gas departments until July 1, it was stated.

When estimates were considered by city council this spring, the recommendation was made that every possible economy be observed during 1932. The proposal to reduce working hours in some departments was also advanced.

At the time the street railway is concerned, final details in respect to the working hours of lay men off work permanently.

Beauty And Boss Gives Her Chance

MARIANT MARSH gets a big chance to show the modern office cule the latest wrinkles of boss vamping. In her newest picture, "Beauty and the Boss," at Empire Monday, Mariant blazes new trails for steno with a yen to warm the frigid heart of their employer.

OFFICE ROMANCE EMPRESS THEM

"Beauty and the Boss" Feature Attraction

"Beauty and the Boss," which Monday at Empire theatre next week, is based on a play which kept the New York theatre for many months last season. On the stage it was known as "The Church Mouse" and starred Miss Ruth Gordon.

Mariant Marsh plays the role of an efficient but unattractive secretary to Warren Williams for whom she has a deep admiration. But not until she learns all about the Love Machine of A. Modern Girl does she win the eye and the heart of Mr. Williams. How she accomplishes this and forms the basis of the story.

Charles Butterworth's dry whimsical make a delightful contribution to the general gaiety of the theme. Sex appeal is played in large doses by Mary Doran, Lilian Ross, Betty Walling, Yola D'Avril and Barbara Leonard.

An unusually fine double feature program is billed for the last three days of next week at the Empress. Bill Boyd will be seen in "Carroll Reed," while the other feature is "The Chance of a Nightingale," a British picture starring Ralph Lynn.

CAPITOL HAS CAMPUS LOVE DRAMA TODAY

Ramon Navarro Stars in Football Film "Huddle"

Plenty of punch and smashing action make "Huddle," the most virile story in which Ramon Navarro has ever appeared. This fast-moving picture of modern American university life will open a three-day engagement at the Capitol theatre today.

From the minute he has his terrific fight with a laborer in the steel mill until he wins a big Victory game for Yale, Navarro is in action constantly. His characterization as Tony Amato is entirely different from anything he has yet attempted and gives him a chance to demonstrate his genuine ability at handling varied types of roles.

The football scenes show such famous All-American and noted gridiron stars as Ernie Pinchot, Marger Apkin, Jess Hibbs, Gene Clark, Dale Van Sickle and Don Hill in action. Plays used by leading American universities in big games were filmed with a special "telescope lens" which enables viewers to follow the action closely.

Campus "atmosphere" shows many actual Yale scenes filmed by technicians with "old grade" cameras. Reproductions of the many famous buildings and quadrangles will warm the hearts of "old grads" and many thousands who have visited the institution.

High Society Whirl Theme Of Rialto Featured Offer

Cross Section of Life Is Shown in "Silver Lining" Monday

One of the modern human interest stories to reach the screen this season is "The Silver Lining," Alan Crosland's production, which comes to the Rialto Monday for three days of exclusivity.

It presents one of the ultra modern stories wherein the players and situations are all, what might be truthfully termed "exceptionally human."

The story details the activity of Joyce Moore, a society debutante and her life of social butterfly and when this news is brought to Joyce Moore she returns to be reviewed and her own friend from a life of continued luxury and ease, the tenants of her dilapidated tenement, risk their lives daily in the ramshackle house she refuses to leave in return.

An accident one evening results in the severe injury of a little boy and when this news is brought to Joyce Moore she returns to be reviewed and her own friend from a life of continued luxury and ease, the tenants of her dilapidated tenement, risk their lives daily in the ramshackle house she refuses to leave in return.

Then comes a drastic change in the life of the social butterfly and before she can realize what has happened, she finds herself in a social institution. Here for thirty days, she learns there are many poor things in life than last hand, road houses and bootleg liquor.

She experiences a decided change of heart and it is happy when she is brought to her senses. She is experienced a decided change of heart and it is happy when she is brought to her senses.

WATERPROOF YOUR CELLAR

See That Proper Drainage Is Provided on the Outside

If proper construction methods are observed, the cellar of your new home can be made as waterproof as any of the other rooms.

In constructing a cellar, location of the house must be considered. In some sections water pressure five miles outside is considerable due to heavy and frequent rains. This condition calls for an exceptionally strong basement wall, and this priority is composed of stone, covered exterior. Stone block cellar foundations in this case would allow moisture to come through masonry joints.

To make a cellar wall additionally waterproof, it is advisable to provide it with a layer of felt matted with two or three layers of paper. This should be placed on the outside of the wall, between the footing and between the subsoil and the finished exterior floor. This combination even with additional covering is protected by another layer of bricks.

DRAINING DRAIN PIPES. After the wall has been poured it is necessary to dig over the finished subsoil before filling in dirt around it. In the case of the cellar, the drainage pipe should be placed in the guttering to the outside of the house. This pipe should connect to this sewer pipe.

To add these drains to existing drains, it is advisable to provide it with a layer of felt matted with two or three layers of paper. This should be placed on the outside of the wall, between the footing and between the subsoil and the finished exterior floor. This combination even with additional covering is protected by another layer of bricks.

REPAIRING CRACKS. If the cracking is a serious one, it is best to have a professional repairman. If the cracking is a minor one, it can be repaired with a special cement. This cement is made of a special cement and a special oil. It is applied to the crack and allowed to dry. The crack will then be filled with the cement and the oil. The crack will then be filled with the cement and the oil.

On the top of the crack must be a layer of felt matted with two or three layers of paper. This should be placed on the outside of the wall, between the footing and between the subsoil and the finished exterior floor. This combination even with additional covering is protected by another layer of bricks.

TRANSPLANTING WILD FLOWERS

Success Depends Much on Surroundings

Home gardeners have long attempted to transplant wild flowers and field flowers in their backyards, but have been more disappointed than successful. The main reason is that wild flowers, tender natives of wild places, must be near their original surroundings as possible to succeed.

In transplanting them, dig up a good section of earth along with the plants. Carry this earth with the plants, taking care not to loosen it to the soil you want to set it in your yard.

Leaf mould should be spread thickly around the plant, and the ground should be kept well moist at all times. If the plant was found in a shady spot in the woods, try to set it in shade at home.

Some of the early spring flowers which may be found growing in the woods near your home are violets, crocuses, Dutchman's breeches, bloodroot, anemones, catpawts and many other plants.

Scotia Coal For General Motors

General Motors of Canada, Limited, was quick to place an order for 100,000 tons of Scotia coal to operate its plant, as soon as the recent federal government bonus made it feasible to transport this eastern fuel west of Montreal. An initial order of 2,000 tons was placed at Ottawa six days after the order was placed, and within a few weeks of the announcement of the Hamilton bonus.

HOW'S SHE HITTING?

By JAMES F. MCNEIL

Rambling around the repair shops we find the following peculiar facts regarding cars, maintenance and repair of the automobile.

Most drivers know not the clutch when they want to come to a stop or slow down. It's all wrong, engine men say. This causes the car to go out of control, eliminates the retarding action of engine compression and makes it necessary to use brake-stroke. There is a simple thing to push out the clutch when the car is near a complete stop.

Loss of compression means loss of power and increased engine consumption. Compression loss can occur at any of the following points: Down past the piston rings past the valves, between cylinder head and gasket, through spark plugs and from the pet cock or release valve.

Sticking windows can be remedied by rubbing a soft erasable pencil or a piece of paraffin in the groove. This will make the glass slide more freely.

The University of Michigan has found that about one of every 10 gallons of gasoline is wasted through failure of motorists to replace worn spark plugs.

Properly adjusted brakes save tire wear. A dragged brake on any one of the wheels will wear that tire faster than any of the others.

Wheels with wooden spokes sometimes develop a squeak and the motorist is puzzled to find them. The squeak comes when the spokes are dry and should be remedied by soaking the spokes thoroughly with water.

The tiny hole in the cap of your gasoline tank lets air into the tank as the gas goes out. If it is clogged with dirt, flow of gas to the engine is apt to stop. Clean out the hole with a pin every now and then.

Sometimes a motorist gets stuck in the mud and all his efforts are useless in getting out. One thing to try is to deflate the rear tires and run out with the load directly on the flats. This gives the wheels more purchase and brings more of the tire tread in contact with the mud. If this fails, don't keep it up.

Too long as it is held on the tire inflates them immediately when out of the mud.

If your "accelerator" leg per tire on a long trip, try using the hand throttle for a while. This is good practice as well as useful on long drive.

When parking in a storm, always point the car away from the direction of the downpour of rain. This will keep the ignition system from getting wet. Also remember that you can get more leverage in parking by pulling on the rim of the steering wheel instead of the spokes.

Watch the ammeter of your car. If it shows a steady charge when the car is going 10 miles an hour

With the lights off, the generator is not functioning. Better have it looked after.

Every once in a while let someone drive your car while you follow in your car and check the front wheels. If they are out of alignment, if your wheels wobble, will save a lot of rubber and gasoline.

The older the car the heavier the grade of oil should be used. After a great deal of wear the space between the pistons and cylinder walls has increased. Thin oil readily finds its way past the pistons in this case. Every time it is a mile in the engine the unburned gas in the oil-finding cylinder makes in liquid form and runs down into the crankcase, diluting the oil therein. It is essential to have the trouble attended to.

HAVE FLOATING POWER RIDE

Then Describe it and Win One of the 183 Prizes

A striking series of newspaper advertisements announce an offer of $1,000 cash and 182 other cash prizes for the best fifty word description of a Floating Power ride.

The reason for the Contest, according to Mr. J. D. Mansfield, President of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada Limited, is that a great many people do not yet know what Floating Power means to the performance of an automobile.

"Floating Power is being confused with free wheeling, automatic clutch and many other features that are not even remotely connected with it," declared Mr. Mansfield. "It is being specially confused with the conventional type of rubber engine mounting which was introduced by Chrysler years ago and which is still widely used."

"We have entirely abandoned this conventional type of rubber mounting," continued Mr. Mansfield. "Floating Power involves not only a new type of mounting, but an entirely new principle of engine construction."

"We are therefore inviting the public to take a Floating Power ride and at the same time offering an opportunity of winning a rich cash prize for the best description of what we claim to be a new experience in motoring," concluded Mr. Mansfield.

automobile must play a great part in our economic life, particularly as we spread out more and more into better living conditions outside of great cities. There is promise of a substantial future for these companies with soundly planned policies and I am confident that Willys-Overland's leadership will be as prominent as it has been during the past twenty-five years.

SOVIET TO TRIPLE AUTO PRODUCTION

The Soviet Government plan calls for production of 750,000 automobiles and 42,000 tractors this year, tripling the auto output of last year, doubling tractor production. The burden of this plan will fall on the huge Gorki-Novogorod plant.

BRIGHT FUTURE WILLYS CARS

Willys Optimistic Views of Future Business for Willys-Overland

A favorable economic turn in the near future, was predicted by John N. Willys, United States Ambassador to Poland and chairman of the Board of the Willys-Overland Company, shortly before sailing on the ship to Poland.

After spending two weeks in Poland, Ohio, conferring with his Willys-Overland associates he expressed optimistic opinions about the future of the Willys-Overland and the return of prosperity.

"I expect to return within a few weeks and put my efforts into doing what I can to help the policies and finances of the Willys-Overland Company which I founded twenty-five years ago," Mr. Willys said.

"The pendulum always swings too far and the pessimists of today are as far wrong as were the optimists of three years ago."

"We are laying plans at Willys-Overland which I am confident will make it a greater company than it ever has been. The loyalty and co-operation of our dealers, our stockholders and our factory organization is a source of great pride to me. On this foundation I am sure Willys-Overland is going forward."

"We are entering a new era—era with changed buying conditions, changed standards and an entirely different set of values. The organization that can correctly gauge these conditions and meet them on such conditions, are the ones that will survive a long period of stability."

"Anyone who makes a tour of this country today, having traveled generally the condition in Europe, will be impressed with the fact that our whole economic life has been based on a general war production program."

WHEAT PRICES SWING QUIETLY UPWARD AT 'PEG'

WINNIPEG, June 25.—Wheat prices swung quietly upward today in response to a flurry of short contracts near the close. Instead of the gain they might have made, however, they were close to record gains of 10¢ for the short wheat and 10¢ for the long wheat. The short wheat added 1¢ to 10¢ at 50¢, to 51¢, while the long wheat added 1¢ to 10¢ at 50¢, to 51¢.

There was a scant short contract worked overnight and during the morning.

The upturn came in the last half-hour. Speculators of Kansas farmers have been prompted to advance in the market to the south which was quickly followed in a trend to higher prices.

Support for the upturn was confirmed shortly after the opening. A short contract was reported for Great Britain. Quite a few orders were received from the market to buy at half a cent under the bid. In contrast to the market close to being up and down, the market was quiet during the morning.

Washington reported a smaller wheat crop for the last few months and that the northern hemisphere production outside of Russia and China will be about 200,000,000 bushels less than last year.

Some improvement was noted in cash wheat at 'peg' in the last half-hour of the previous close. Cane sugar prices were low and no business was transacted.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By Ahern

THE SATURDAY PAPER WITH THE SUNDAY FEATURES

SMILES

"What kind of action does De Fave write?"
"Mainly, promissory notes and I.O.U.'s."

First Boarder: The landlady made an awful mistake at dinner today.
Second Boarder: Why so?
First Boarder: I got a piece of white meat still alive.

"Mac has the hardest job of his life this summer."
"Indeed? What is it?"
"Trying to find a soft one."

A GOOD SCHEME
Now when I read of Babylon I get those hanging garden fooled. The pesky chickens.

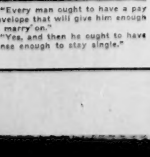

Sire: Now that you are started in business, remember that honesty is the best policy.
Graduate: I intend to give both systems a fair trial.

MUSICAL BURGLARY
"Whenever I break into song you always complain," said he.
"Well, why in the world," she answered.
"Don't you try to find the key."

THE GEROGYMAN
Mrs. G: So good as good as he is, and short what makes it funny.
That more else as much as he, he is marrying for money.

"Every man ought to have a pay envelope that will give him enough to marry on."
"Yes, and then he ought to have sense enough to stay single."

COMIC SCRAP BOOK

TAGALONG, Lindy and Jumbo all wanted their pictures in here today. And we just couldn't disappoint any one of them. So here they are—all three. Cut out the picture and paste it in your Comic Scrapbook. Other sketches of comic characters will appear from time to time.

"GIDDAP, them!" shouted Tagalong. "I want a dandy ride. So, good old Lindy's going strong. With Jumbo at his side."

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By Blosser

"THIS IS WHAT I CALL SORT-NOthing TO DO BUT JUST SIT AND WATCH TH' CLOUDS ROLL BY!"

SOMEbody MUST BE HAVING THEIR HOUSE PAPERED... I HAVEN'T SEEN A PAPER-HANGER WORK FOR I DON'T KNOW HOW LONG!!

I'M GOING TO SEE WHERE HE GOES. LOOKS LIKE HE'S GOING ON OUT IN THE COUNTRY—WELL, I'LL FOLLOW HIM!!

AHH! WHAT IS SO RARE AS A DAY IN JUNE!! THIS CANVAS SHOULD BE A POEM

IF ONLY A CON OR SOME LIVING OBJECT WOULD HAPPEN INTO THE LANDSCAPE...

SAY! AIN'T YOU A PAPER-HANGER?

A PAPER-HANGER? WHY—BESS YOU, NO!! I'M A PAINTER OF CHARMING SUBJECTS!!

YOU'VE COME ALONG JUST AT THE RIGHT TIME... I'LL GIVE YOU A QUARTER IF YOU'LL LET ME PAINT YOU!

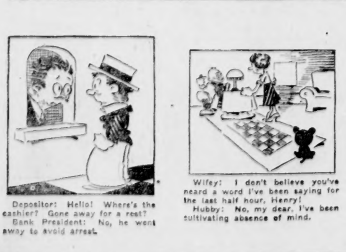

ME?

YES...WHY DO YOU HESITATE? IT WILL BE EASY MONEY!

I KNOW, BUT I WAS JUST THINKING HOW I WOULD GET THE PAINT OFF, AFTERWARDS!!

Wife: I don't believe you've heard a word I've been saying for the last half hour, Henry.
Hubby: No, my dear, I've been cultivating absence of mind.

Sue: Was there anything unusual about the contracting parties to that wedding?
Hen: No, just the bride and the groom.

"Well, what about that little bird?"
"I told you to call at 4 o'clock and see only 3 now!"
"I know it. I wanted to catch you in."

"Going away this summer?"
"No, my wife has decided she can get all tired out more comfortably by staying at home."

"What is the matter with you wife anyhow?"
"I guess it's a case of flat tire."
"She's weary of living in a rat."

SMILES

Barber: I understand you are in business for yourself.
Victim: No, I have a wife.

Waiter: How did you find your wash girl?
Patron: Mostly by the sense of smell.

COMMENCEMENT TIME

Behold the girls graduate.
The sweetest thing in town.
Does she depend on Greek and Latin
With coyly thoughtful frown.
Bo Zoo and Psycho, her mind ab-tract.
And all their knotted class
Of kindred apokos and musty books
Or is it just—a man.

"It's just awful to think of marrying a man for his money."
"It isn't half as awful as getting hold of the man."

"You say your cousin is an aviator?"
"Sure. He's a flying fish."

"That fellow certainly can make a great speech."
"That so? Then why doesn't he?"

"Ah, you are getting your new bark from Bingie. He isn't much of a talker."
"I know he isn't much of a flier, but he's so mean-spirited he can't recognize a man too feet away."

Shen: Do you think the mentally weak should be allowed to marry?
Her: Do you wish to abolish man-riage entirely?

"I'm a self-made man, I want you to know."
"Old chap, you should have holtered for help."

THE WILLETS

Out Our-Way

By Williams

Barber: Made any plans for the summer?
Mr. Neek: Yes—I'm going somewhere with the wife.

Jack: Slow: May I—make—you?
Miss Sweet: What do you want,
written permission?

"Is your husband all you thought he was?"
"Just about. But he doesn't come close to being all he thought he was."

Staylate: I always pay as I go.
Miss Wren: Your creditors have my sympathy.

"Your wife is busy these days."
"Yes, she is to address a women's club."
"Ah, working on her address?"
"No, on her dress."

Customer: You haven't much of a memory for dates.
Butler: Dear: Nope, I used to have. But it interferes with business when you're selling spring chickens.
